Not like a clam

CLAMS live to themselves. You can't. You link lives with your neighbor across the street, across the state, across the continent. You are influenced by what he wants, buys, uses, enjoys.

When enough of your neighbors want, buy, use, enjoy the same thing, you begin to see advertisements about it—advertisements to arouse you to similar use and enjoyment. They paint glowing, truthful pictures . . . try to get you interested in what will really interest you.

Convenient, courteous information is yours at a minute's glance. Style, variety, price, where obtained. That minute's glance may mean the difference between buying unworthy wares and the best.

You don't want to be like a clam—even in your judgments. Read the advertisements to be guided by others' choice. When they choose something again and again it must be good.

Each advertisement is written to you—to help you choose—to save you money

Getting Skinnier Every Day

Something Must Be Done, and Done Darn Quick, Too.

Tens of thousands of thin, run-down men—yes, and women, too—are getting discouraged—are giving up all hope of ever being able to take up flesh and look healthy and strong. All such people can stop worrying and start to smile right now for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets, which any druggist will tell you all about, by putting flesh on hosts of skinny folks every day.

One woman, tired, weak and discouraged, put on 15 pounds in five weeks and feels fine. We all know that Cod Liver Oil is full of flesh producing vitamins, but many people can't take it because of its horrible smell and fishy taste, and because it often upsets the stomach.

McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets are as easy to take as candy, and if any thin person don't gain at least 5 pounds in 30 days your druggist will give you your money back—and only 60 cents a box. Ask any live pharmacist anywhere.

Special Term Held Saturday

Dispute Between Krom and His Attorney Over Claims For Services Is Settled.

At a regular special term of the supreme court held before Judge Hasbrouck at the court house Saturday several matters were brought before the court.

An application to change the place of trial from Albany to Dutchess county was made in the action brought by Anthony Campioni and Helen Campioni against the Poughkeepsie and Wappingers Fall Traction Company. John E. Mack by Judge John G. Van Etten appeared for defendant. Motion granted.

Palmer Canfield, Jr., who was assigned by Judge Hasbrouck to Tremorland Hurstle Masters, defendant, asked that an adjournment be taken in the action brought by Edna Steen Masters against Tremorland Hurstle Masters until the April special term in order to give him a chance to locate defendant. During the war counsel was assigned to any defendant who was in service and Mr. Canfield was assigned at that time by the court in the action which was brought for annulment of marriage, on the grounds that defendant had a wife living at the time of contracting the marriage. The last place of residence which Mr. Canfield had was Camp Dix and he asked an adjournment in the matter in order to endeavor to locate defendant. Judge Clearwater appears for plaintiff and did not oppose the motion for adjournment.

Stephen J. Krom of Atwood, who was given an award of $900 by the city of New York for damage to his property by reason of having the flow of water taken from him through the construction of the Ashokan reservoir, through his attorney, Judge John G. Van Etten, applied to the court to be relieved from a lien filed against the award by Arthur A. Brown, formerly a member of the firm of Brown & Slosson. At the time of the commencing of the Ashokan proceedings Mr. Krom signed an agreement with the United States Title and Guarantee Trust Company, which was represented by Mr. Brown, in which he agreed to pay 10% of any award. The company was later unable to continue the practice of law and the business was taken over by Brown & Slosson and they were retained by Mr. Krom. The claim was not reached in years and later when notice of the trial of the claim was given, Mr. Krom notified Mr. Brown that he had secured other counsel. The case was tried before a commission and an award of $900 was made. Mr. Brown, personally filed a lien against the claim and the moneys were paid over by the city and deposited in the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company pending the trial of Mr. Brown's claim.

Judge John G. Van Etten appeared before Judge Hasbrouck Saturday and asked that the matter be settled so that the money could be paid to Mr. Krom. William H. Grogan appeared for the city of New York. Brown claims that he had expended a sum of $40 for witnesses to examine the property in order that they might testify before the commission appointed to hear the claim. The witnesses did not testify when the claim was heard. As the firm of Brown & Slosson was the counsel involved in the case and the lien was filed individually by Mr. Brown, Judge Hasbrouck directed that an allowance of $50 be allowed from the award on condition that both Brown and Slosson sign the release so that the city of New York and the claimant would be relieved in future of any claim which the firm of Brown & Slosson might make.

CURRENT OFFERINGS AT THE THEATERS.

The feature picture to be shown at the Keeney Theater this evening is "In the Palace of the King," a photoplay of Spanish court in medieval days. The story is adapted from F. Marion Crawford's romance of the days when the Spaniards were battling with the Moors. Blanche Sweet is supported by a brilliant cast.

At the Opera House this evening a new bill of vaudeville will be shown in conjunction with the feature picture, "The Affairs of Lady Hamilton." It is said that the life of Lady Hamilton, affords one of the most charming and heart-touching stories in history.

At the Auditorium today is Douglas MacLean in "A Man of Action." It is a comedy romance with the kind of a hero that every girl would like for a sweetheart and the kind of a girl that every fellow dreams about. There's thrills—and mystery—and adventure—and crooks all mixed up in this yarn about a young chap who had to prove himself a hero and turned out to be a human cyclone. Vaudeville is on the bill at the Orpheum today, tomorrow and Wednesday. The picture of love and war is George Melford's Paramount production of "The Light That Failed" based on Rudyard Kipling's celebrated story. Jacqueline Logan, Percy Marmont, Sigrid Holmquist and David Torrence are featured.

Gay and Neutral Tones in Fashion

Green, Yellow, Red, Orange, Plain Colors on List for Spring.

Everywhere the radiance of spring is reflected in gay and neutral tones with white always predominating, says a fashion correspondent in the Portland Oregonian. Greens, especially in soft moss and almond tones, carry the honors, with soft yellow a close second. Then there are the red and orange tints so numerous that there is a color for every one and a new one it will be, too. Plain colors, especially in pastel tints combined with white, are very chic just as bright colors were a season ago, but there is a new note expressed in Palm Beach coloring today. Roman stripes and plaids combine many colors in the one fabric and thereby offer a wide range for the designer's imaginative art, to say nothing of the possibilities for the wearer to establish her own individuality through her selection of accessories.

The Chinese influence is with us for another season. This is evidenced by the coloring "love apple red," not totally different from lacquer or tile red, and the soft greens, might well be described as Chinese green. Distinctly Chinese designs are employed in patterning cretonnes for sport wear. Many parasols disclose these prints, or Chinese handle and ferrule. Printed silks most suggestive of spring are absolutely irresistible in their small, closely spaced, all-over 1880 motifs. The fabric itself is usually crepe and the backgrounds vary as to color. Daring floral designs both large and small, and detached motifs registering black and white, make striking contrasts and are undeniably chic.

All that has been said as to color cannot discount for one minute the popularity of white. White is present everywhere. It is sponsored by Paris as well as our American designers, who interpret so well the spirit of American womanhood.

As to fabric, the newest in the realm of silks is silk alpaca. It may be fashioned in coat and skirt tailleur or a simple morning frock. Such a frock recently observed carried an unbroken line from shoulder to hem. The fullness at the waistline was adjusted by three darts at either side just under the arm, thereby eliminating the necessity of a belt. The hooded boyish note was suggested in a vest of white alpaca. A Peter Pan collar and flare cuffs of this fabric bound in blue finished a long, tight well-fitted sleeve.

Novelty Fabrics Used for Coats and Capes

Novelty fabrics are employed in the development of pocketful coats and capes modeled with flaring lines in side tie and button styles. Striped, checked and solid colored fabrics are utilized in velours, in materials of the polaire and tweed type, in brushed weaves, and a variety of novelty fabrics.

Colored stillings, leather appliques, fancy buttons, are among the trimming notes. Contrasting borders are frequently utilized, and checked fabrics that appear at the hem line set on in triangular gogets of self or contrasting materials.

Leather trimmings are prominent among all the models displayed. A group of sport coats are presented in shadow plaids that come in pastel offerings.

Lists to match are featured with each coat, and knickers are shown with several models.

B. & O. WINS SUIT AGAINST N. Y. CENTRAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Washington, March 3.—The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company won in the supreme court of the United States today its suit to have set aside an order of the Interstate Commerce Commission by which the New York Central Railroad was permitted to take control of the Chicago Junction and Chicago and Indiana railroads, terminal railroads in and about Chicago.

Twenty-three railroads used the terminal facilities and several joined with the Baltimore and Ohio in resisting the order as against public interest.

EX-OFFICIALS AS LAWYERS.

Mr. McAdoo proves his honesty and consciousness of innocence when he frankly states that his firm received $100,000 for negotiations in connection with certain Mexican oil leases and was to receive $200,000 more in case of the success of the negotiations. But Mr. McAdoo does not pay tribute to his own intelligence when he fails to realize that what Doheny was paying for at such high rates was not Mr. McAdoo's superlative abilities as a lawyer but his supposed influence as a statesman. The former Secretary of the Treasury seems unable to understand why his boom for the presidential nomination should in any way be affected and why the enthusiasm of even many of his supporters has cooled, and yet he knows that the whole country now shrinks from the "well of oil" and is sensitively conscious that high officials of the future shall be free of it beyond the remotest possibility of question.

Ex-presidents and other high officials must earn and have earned a livelihood after retiring to private life, and when they are lawyers they must actively engage in the practice of their profession. From Alexander Hamilton to Grover Cleveland they have done so. But when an excessive fee is offered it behooves a lawyer recently retired from high official place to distinguish between his legal ability and his value to his client as a politician supposed still to have access to and influence upon the administration at Washington. It would appear that Mr. McAdoo failed to do this, and though he did not violate legal ethics, this readily accounts for the showing up of his presidential nomination campaign—a fact that seems to astonish and puzzle him, although the public at large appears to look upon it as a matter of course.

SAYS GERMANY CAN PAY.

The interesting news comes from Paris that the Dawes committee will report not only that Germany can pay, but that after a brief moratorium she can pay substantial amounts toward a total of seventy billion gold marks. It is stated that this would be sufficient to allow France twenty-six billion gold marks for reconstruction of the devastated regions plus twelve billions for the payment of interallied debts, and to England the fourteen billions which she has asked in order to pay America what she owes, as well as to allow to Italy and Belgium five billion gold marks. With all this brought about, it is obvious that a long step toward a final and acceptable settlement will have been made.

Still more interesting is the reported showing of the Dawes committee that all this can be done merely by fixing upon the German people taxes as heavy as those now imposed upon the French and British taxpayers. It has been asked over and over why Germany could not stand taxation equally as heavy as that borne by France and England, particularly in view of the fact that Germany, unlike France, remained safe from the devastating tread of contending armies and now has no internal debt. The only answer given, apart from the cry of poverty, was that the German government feared that the Germans would not submit to it with the patience of the French and British. It is not stated what guarantees or pledges in committee will demand, although this would seem to be the most important feature, experience having shown how difficult it is not impossible it is to hold Germany to any pledge whatsoever.

THE "NEW ART."

The literary geniuses of Greenwich Village, who are developing "the art of the future" but are denied the joy of print because of the low intelligence of the magazine editors and book publishers of New York, may now turn hopeful eyes toward Richmond. "The Reviewer" magazine of that city would appear to represent literary insurgency of the most advanced sort, for it has approvingly published "The Indian Boy" by Gertrude Stein, which we find reprinted as follows:

Two Indians as we said we know how to say the Indians as we said. We are amused when we say who is abused as we say.

An Indian boy in Mexico.
An Indian boy in India.
An Indian boy in America.
An Indian boy in Russia.
An Indian boy in Georgia.
An Indian boy in Italy, and Indian boy in India.
An Indian boy in Africa, and Indian boy in America.
An Indian boy and individuals and close answers.

No doubt it will be contended that even "Brutus" has published nothing more original and that this wonderful Gertrude has all the great points of all the ages on the hip.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act.)
RAW FOODS.

The argument is often advanced that raw foods, the natural food of man, should be eaten in their natural state, and not spoiled by cooking. It is further argued that man is the same in body as he was in prehistoric times, and early man ate raw foods.

Further, that man's long intestine shows that he was meant to eat raw, rough foods, and so plenty of length of intestine gives plenty of time for the digestion of these raw foods.

Now what about it?
All this is undoubtedly true. You have the same body as the man of thousands of years ago. The same teeth, stomach, intestine and so forth.

Then why do we cook food?
Simply because although you have the same body, you do not live the same kind of life.
Our early man lived an outdoor life. He hunted, and later tilled, but always the outdoors.

He had the greatest asset of all time, a real healthy hunger—appetite for food. And when he sunk his teeth—real teeth—into raw foods he ground them up—broke down the hard fibres of the meats and vegetables which mixed up with the saliva, and so turned them for stomach digestion.

The stomach juices were just as hungry as his mouth juices, and they by means of strong stomach muscles were well mixed up with the food, it was thus ready for the real digestion in the small intestine.

What about you?
You don't live this outdoor life. You sometimes have a good appetite, but not always. The food that was put down in front of early man would never tempt your appetite.

And so your food is cooked for you to make it attractive and appealing. The odor of it, its appearance, the dishes and everything else connected with a meal stimulate your appetite and you are encouraged to eat. Encouraged to eat too much frequently.

Cooking also makes changes in the food that render it more digestible.

Early man didn't need this for the reason spoken of above. But you need it because your hunger juices, your teeth, your digestive juices are nothing like as strong as early man.

Cooking softens the meat so that it is easier to chew, and juices get to the food more readily.

MUST MAKE A REPORT UPON ALL DIVIDENDS

All corporations are required to make a return not later than March 15, 1924, of all dividends paid during 1923, by one of the most sweeping rulings issued by the Income Tax Department. This return must show the name and address of each stockholder, the number of shares owned, and the amount of dividends paid to each. "Such information was never before required to be submitted. All that was ordinarily required heretofore was the list of those to whom payments of $1,000 or over were made for salaries, wages and commissions. This new ruling adds dividend payments, irrespective of amount, to the list. It is undoubtedly intended to supply the Income Tax Department with a basis of checking up the correctness of the amount of dividends reported on the stockholders' personal returns.

Coupled with "inordinate conceit" and "shallow thinking," Rhees, in his notebook, declared himself an atheist and denied existence of a moral law. President Rhees, his father, is a Baptist minister, now on vacation in Africa.

GUADALAJARA IS CITY OF WEALTH

Something of a Parisian Touch About Metropolis.

The recapture of the city of Guadalajara by federal troops in Mexico means a certain prestige for their arms, a bulletin from the Washington headquarters of the National Geographic society points out, because this is in importance the second city of the republic, a community of wealth and power.

"There is something of a Parisian touch about Guadalajara," says the bulletin. "One senses a light gaiety in spite of the scars from a decade of revolution and looting. A palm-tiled plaza adds a semitropic note which quite prepares the visitor to learn that the gaiety has a more somnolent note than that which the Champs Elysee or the Rive de la Paix have to offer. The banners of lottery tickets which one's line of sight must thread to pass to the twin domes of the yellowish brown cathedral, speak eloquently of Latin tolerance in the realm of chance.

Mementoes of Better Days.

"There is architecture in Guadalajara; and evidence of wealth that may be wholly a thing of the past or may be slumbering below the surface, so to speak, awaiting the more settled times that wealth demands whether in the tropics or near the poles. Whole streets of handsome private residences speak of a more prosperous day. The stocks of the shops are sadly depleted by years of strife, but the buildings that house them are well built and ornamental. The hotels are clean and comfortable.

"This second city of Mexico has always been famed for its beautiful women; and it still deserves its reputation though many of the wealthier families whose daughters led the social world have taken up their residence in the United States and Europe since Diaz fell. In the 'good old days' the ladies of the better world used to promenade in the plaza of an evening when the band played, the gentlemen marching in the reverse direction, while the poets stood deferentially outside admiring the beauty and magnificence. But this parade of the first families is a thing of the past. Now the poems have the plaza to themselves and march and counter-march with their own women.

"But basic customs die hard, and the visitor today is not denied a view of Guadalajara's beauties. Early each Sunday afternoon for an hour they drive up and down the narrow main street between the cathedral and a little church a quarter of a mile distant, smiling and greeting their friends of the 'carriage class.' Many of these first families of Guadalajara are of unmixed Spanish blood, and their outlook on life, despite revolutions and the democratization of their government, is uncompromisingly aristocratic.

A Murillo in Hiding.

"In the city is a painting by Murillo for which $400,000 was once offered. But the visiting art lover will look for it in vain. Great works of art are not safe when revolution stalks, and the authorities of the cathedral, in which the magnificent painting hung, saw to it that their priceless charge went into hiding, awaiting the return of a happier day in Mexico. The picture was the gift of the king of Spain as a recognition of contributions from Guadalajara during the Peninsula war.

"Guadalajara's climate is all that could be wished. Perhaps it is even more; for each day with its clear blue sky and flood of sunshine is like the one that went before and the one that will follow tomorrow. Winter has no sting. It has little to disturb; it save that some nights have a touch of frost to lend an added sparkle to the air."

Float Copper Shows Head by Prehistoric Designer

The University of Michigan has recently acquired a nugget of "float" copper weighing 483 pounds and measuring 42 by 32 inches, with a thickness of about 3 inches.

The nugget was obtained by the university at the market price of copper from a Houghton county farmer, who turned it up in his fields. It was believed at the time it was simply an exceptionally large piece of "float" copper, and it was not until it was photographed that its full value was learned. In turning the copper to get the best light, a "face" was observed along one edge. Investigation showed evidences of human handwork.

Special interest is attached to the piece of copper itself, because it shows the effect of the wearing of glacial stones.

ENTERTAINMENT DRAWS BIG CROWD TO NO. 8

One of the most delightful entertainments given in Kingston in many months was held in School No. 8 Friday evening. The audience was composed of the students and their parents and friends. Two large class rooms were packed with a highly appreciative audience.

Before the entertainment several young ladies of the upper classes passed through the aisles selling candy and one disappointment of the evening was that the supply gave out long before the demand was satisfied.

All of the entertainers were former pupils of No. 8, and several spoke feelingly of the happy memories the old building recalled. Miss Jennie Hildebrand gave a delightful piano solo which was followed by the beautiful dancing of Miss Priscilla Davis. Next Arthur Rittenbury sang as only he can sing, holding the audience entranced. Following was a reading by Miss Georgianna Claffin, whose ability and power of impersonation, is well known throughout the city. Mrs. Glendinning gave a pleasing soprano solo in her charming manner, followed by a reading by Mrs. Alfred Van Buren, whose delightful personality won the hearts of all. Clyde Matthews sang a baritone solo, accompanied by Rodney Clapp, both young men showing promise of splendid musical futures. Each one of the entertainers responded graciously to an encore. The program ended with the entire audience singing "Auld Lang Syne."

The Parent-Teacher Association of School 8 thanks the performers for their generous response to the call of their Alma Mater.

That cold may turn into "Flu," or, even worse, Pneumonia. Rub good old Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it relieves.

Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the congestion.

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, does the work without blistering. Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

Three Companies Incorporate Here

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, March 3.—While scores of companies incorporated in New York state during the past month for building purposes, one lone company formed and incorporated with demolishing as its purpose. The past month has been marked by unusual activity in the number of companies organizing and incorporating for the manufacture of radio sets and parts. There was a lull in this short time ago, but during February more of these companies incorporated than in many months.

With rents still going upward, real estate continues to lead all other branches in the number of companies that are being formed. A report by Secretary of State James A. Hamilton shows 537 real estate companies as having incorporated last month, as against 391 in February, 1923.

The steady increase in companies forming and incorporating in New York state and the amount of investing capital presents encouraging signs for the future. During the first two months this year 3,763 companies have incorporated in this state as compared to 3,326 during the same two months of 1923, and 3,131 companies in January and February of 1922.

In Ulster county three companies, totalling $33,000 in capitalization, incorporated last month.

TRAPPERS HAVE TO SUE FOR FUR MONEY, AND OBTAIN IT

Warwick—Deauford Dunn and Harold Conklin of Greenwood Lake have been quite successful trapping furs this winter and on December 10 sent a consignment of furs to a widely advertised firm, the J. R. Hough Fur Co., in Meriden, Conn., which according to the advertised guaranteed price list sent out by the firm, was worth $149.80. On Christmas day the trappers got a check from J. R. Hough Co., for $7.30, with a statement that the furs were "wormy, mildewed and badly damaged." Bringing their case to Kane & Stage, with the check, the lawyers had a photograph taken of the check before it was returned, and noting the check was drawn on a Kingston, N. Y. bank, attachment papers were made out and Messrs. Dunn and Conklin drove up there the next day and attached the Hough account, which amounted to some $2,260. This brought the fur firm into court and after a few adjournments and their lawyer finding they had no case a settlement was reached by which they will pay the bill in full with all costs added. In the February number of the "Fur News and Outdoor world," there are 17 complaints to the editor from subscribers who have had what they claimed to be bad treatment by the Hough company. One shipper sent a consignment worth $29, receiving a check for $4.20; another whose furs were worth at the advertised prices, $60 or more got $12.—Newburgh News.

LARGE HAT REGISTERS WITH PALM BEACH VISITORS

(By Eleanor Gunn)

The large hat which markedly reflects the characteristics of its progenitor the cloche, has decidedly registered at Palm Beach this season. While the generously proportioned hat which shades the face has always been a factor here, there is, nevertheless, a very strong tendency this season toward millinery which droops slightly at either side and has a short back and front. Tagal, Bangkok, and some crin are the mediums and simplicity is the keynote.

Edges are plain or bound with shirred ribbon and the broad or narrow quill made of ostrich feathers, which are frequently gilded are a well liked mode of decoration. The same large shape trimmed with flowers has adopted a more than usual elegance in that it is not nearly so simple as formerly. It is the large flower which is used, iris and tulips, for instance, and elongated foliage is also in fashion in a flat crown applique.

The fashion of trimming the crown on these "flower" hats is quite noteworthy, or else the flowers are placed at the back of the brim with the

This Week in The Legislature

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, March 3.—Passage of Governor Smith's bill calling for a 25 per cent reduction in the state income taxes in the assembly tonight will open what is expected to be one of the busiest weeks in the 1924 session of the legislature.

The Walker bill, carrying out the governor's proposal already has been passed in the Democratic senate. It is expected it will be substituted for the Taylor bill, containing the same provision, in the house tonight. By passing the Walker bill the need for further action on the measure by the senate will be eliminated.

The income tax reduction bill is regarded by many as the most important piece of legislation before the law makers. The governor's proposal will mean a saving of approximately eight million dollars to income taxpayers in New York state.

Republican leaders are making plans to cut at least one-half mill from the direct state tax. This, they say, also will mean a saving of $2,000,000 to the property taxpayer. This can only be done, however, by keeping the appropriations for the next fiscal year as low as possible. Governor Smith has promised to do this in return for the support of the Republican assembly on his income tax measure.

A resolution calling for a legislative investigation of the alleged boxing scandal will be offered in the house tonight by Assemblyman Steinberg, New York city, Republican. It will be read tomorrow. There will be a hearing before the assembly ways and means committee tomorrow afternoon on the Nale resolution, which also calls for a legislative probe of boxing. Tex Rickard, New York fight promoter, and other prominent boxing men are expected to attend. Assemblyman Bert Lord, Republican, of Chenango, sponsor of a bill to repeal the Walker state boxing law, said today he was certain the Republican assembly would pass his bill later in the session.

A half dozen bills sponsored by Senator Straus, New York Democrat, and providing equal rights for women, including jury duty, will be the subject of a hearing tomorrow afternoon before the senate general laws committee. Many women are expected at the capitol to speak on these measures. Similar bills were defeated in the legislature last year.

The Republican and Democratic water power bills are expected to be pushed along toward final passage in both houses this week. Governor Smith and Speaker Machold are deadlocked on water power legislation. The Democratic senate will pass the governor bill and the assembly will approve the Republican measure, and that will mark the end of water power at this session, it was declared by leaders of both parties at the capitol today.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ. Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat trouble. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of trouble and destroys the germs that lead to serious complications.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in treatment of chronic coughs and colds, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

New Talks on Pay Increase

Proposed Salary Schedule For Postal Workers Should be Worked Out By Commission Says Their Boss.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, March 3.—Proposed increases in salaries of postal workers and changes in conditions of employment involving increases in pay, should be referred to a congressional commission. Postmaster General New said today in a letter to Representative W. W. Griest, chairman of the house committee on post offices and post roads.

"This commission, New said, would have time and opportunity to inquire fully into the merits of all the propositions and will have before them the results of cost ascertainment and be able to determine the relation between them and proper postage rates and fees for special services and revenues of the department, in order that the merits may be properly considered and that suitable and desirable legislation growing out of the whole situation may be considered at one and the same time."

New pointed out that readjustment of the service along the lines provided in the several bills now before the Congress would involve an annual increase in expenditures of $150,000,000 for the postal service. He made it plain that while he favored adequate and just salaries for government employees, the plans for increasing salaries should be worked out along scientific lines.

"Manifestly," said New, "any increase of any sum approaching that which is involved in the enactment of this legislation would render one of two things inevitably necessary. One would be an increase of the rates of postage. The other would be to meet it as other expenses are met, by draft on the general treasury."

The estimated deficit would approximate $180,000,000 "and it is quite apparent that so largely increased draft on the treasury would materially affect the construction of the whole budget," New said.

N. Y. FARMERS GET LAND BANK DIVIDEND

A dividend to farmer-borrowers through the federal land bank was recently paid by the Springfield bank. This is the sixth dividend paid in this farm loan district which includes the New England States, New York and New Jersey.

A total dividend of $44,767.36 was paid. Of this amount borrowers in New York state received $18,181.22, making a total of over $72,000 in dividends received by New York state farmers borrowing through the land bank system since it began to operate.

According to the provisions of the law under which the system operates loans are made only to farmers to be used in their farming operations. Each borrower is required to take membership in the local farm loan association of which there is at least one organized in each county of New York state. Each borrower is also required to take a small amount of stock in the bank. It is on this stock that the dividends were paid.

Over 4,100 loans have been made through the land bank in New York state, reaching the total of over $13,000,000.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A New Toy for a Young Child.

4578. Dolls of all kinds are new in vogue, but none quite takes the place of a soft rag doll. The model here depicted features "Bunny Rabbit," so dear to the heart of little boy or girl. "Bunny" is especially attractive in his new rompers. The pattern provides the doll as well as the garment style. The doll may be made of drill, unbleached muslin, terry cloth or toweling, or of flannel or flannellette. It may be stuffed with rag, or moss, kapok, or wool wadding. One could make the doll washable as well as "floating" by stuffing with cork and making the outside of rubberized cloth, or satin. The rompers could be of percale or zephyr or to be real dressey of satin or crepe.

The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: Small, 12 inches; medium, 15 inches; and large, 20 inches in length. To make the doll for a medium size requires 5/8 yard of material, for the rompers 7/8 yard is required, 36 inches wide. For collar of contrasting material 1/4 yard is required. The features may be painted on the head or worked in with yarn or worsted. Buttons may be used for the eyes.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

SIMPLICITY AS APPLIED TO EVENING CLOTHES

(By Eleanor Gunn.)

Notwithstanding the fact that simplicity is a favorite descriptive term with fashion writers, it is very often misapplied. Simplicity as applied to evening clothes of the moment, needs qualifying. A gown is often simple to a degree in line, but most elaborate in every other way. An excellent example of this is a metal lace gown studded with jewels or partially outlined with beads. Such gowns are not the exception at formal functions just now and while it may appear to be gilding the lily to veil metal brocade with metal lace, this too is not extraordinary in these nights of formal entertaining.

Metal brocade has had its share of popularity should it now be eclipsed by other fabrics, but judging from the woman who still selects it for dinner wear, its allotted time has not been long enough and the end is not yet in sight. Outlining certain motifs of the brocade with beads produces a greater elegance and provides a trimming difficult to equal, for the form of trimming a brocade has been so much of the problem, that it has been most usual to accept the fabric as sufficient unto itself.

Of course, fur is the first thought to flash in connection with brocade and even the woman who winters near the equator is not called upon to deny herself a fur bordered gown. The most approved placement of fur is either around the entire skirt, especially if it is circular, or to border side or front panels, any of which may be circular. A charming use of fur and tulle was affected by a woman in the diplomatic circle who veiled her arms and shoulders with a brown tulle scarf almost to the floor, weighted down by a five-inch border of fur.

France Is More Conciliatory

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Feb. 2.—Opinions in all circles today that an Anglo-French accord is nearer than it has been at any other time in more than a year as a result of the frank letters addressed by Premier Ramsay MacDonald to Premier Poincaré asking for closer and more amicable relations between the two powers. The communications exchanged between the two premiers were given out for publication in Monday morning newspapers.
Practically all London papers applauded MacDonald's firmness and frankness especially his open declaration that the British people were suspicious of the mighty air fleet built by the French.
Further letters will be exchanged and it is believed the premiers will meet for a personal conference after the committees of reparations experts have completed and submitted their reports.
Even the Daily Express, which has been skeptical for the labor premier's statesmanship, admitted that MacDonald has taken a firmer stand towards France than his two immediate predecessors, David Lloyd George and Stanley Baldwin.
Signs of conciliation are seen in Poincaré's replies. Poincaré asked for a closer understanding with Great Britain and explained that France had no desire to annex the territory of any other nation. He said the Ruhr was occupied merely in order to bring pressure upon Germany to obtain reparations payments.
MacDonald's firmness coupled with Poincaré's replies, Poincaré's admission and Belgium's weariness of French policy are expected to lead to a modification of France's program which will make a general European settlement easier.
Great Britain wants the United States to participate actively in such settlement.

Senators at Hot Springs.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Tampa, Fla., March 3.—The main body of the Washington Senators reported here today from Hot Springs and Clark Griffith now has all his players with their feet under the same table. From now on, he told them today, they are going to get baseball workouts, with not so much attention to golf, fishing and other forms of diversion.

Testimony of Von Kahr Asked

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Munich, March 3.—Counsel for the defense in the famous Lunden-dorf-Hitler high treason trial today demanded the immediate arrest of Dr. Von Kahr, former Bavarian dictator, General Von Lossow, former commander of the Bavarian Reichswehr, and Herr Seisser, one of their associates in the events of last November.

Dr. Von Kahr, General Von Lossow and Herr Seisser had intimated they would support the "beer cellar putsch," but withdrew, causing its collapse within twelve hours after the "revolt" was launched.

Defense counsel contended that the fact that Von Kahr, Von Lossow and Seisser had conspired with the defendants, made them equally guilty even though they did cause the collapse of the "revolt."

Lieutenants Wagner and Pernet were given an opportunity today to make speeches of defense.

If his health permits, Von Kahr probably will testify Wednesday.

Telephone Co. Annual Report

Higher Business Than Ever Before, Higher Dividends Paid and $15,417,793 Added to Surplus.

That the Bell System is the biggest and best telephone system in the world is evidenced by the annual report of President H. B. Thayer of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, who says that it must be even greater to meet the future demands for service.

"Since the war," Mr. Thayer says, "there have been established new standards of wages and new standards of living. We must accept these standards as substantially normal now, as we accepted prewar standards as normal then."

"The effect is a greater cost of plant, a greater expense of giving service, and yet, notwithstanding the necessarily higher charges for service, a greater demand for service."

"The direct beneficiaries of higher wages have become householders and applicants for telephone service."

"The habit of using the telephone steadily grows. There is no saturation anywhere. Our population increases about 1,500,000 annually. All indications point, therefore, to an increasing rather than an abating demand for our service."

The financing during the year included the sale of $100,000,000 debenture bonds of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. Since 1920, the relation between the funded debt and capital stock of the company which has always been maintained on a sound basis has been materially strengthened. As of February 1st the funded debt was less than 28 per cent of total capital obligations.

It is shown that there is about two billion dollars equity over the mortgage debt of the entire Bell System and that such mortgage debt is less than 20 per cent of the total assets.

Not including its equity the undivided profits of its associated companies, the American Company earned 11.35 per cent on its average outstanding capital stock, compared with 11.14 for 1922.

The report reiterates the company's advocacy of public utility regulation but calls attention to the need of larger salaries and longer tenure of office for the members of state commissions.

Where the operating companies have found it necessary to appeal from the commissions to the courts in rate cases, it has been chiefly on questions of law. Principles involved in rate making for which the companies have contended, were upheld by decisions of the federal courts, including two decisions of the U. S. supreme court and by supreme courts of four states. These decisions should simplify rate cases before commissions and by eliminating points of dispute should greatly strengthen and improve the entire situation with reference to regulation.

In the latter part of 1923, submarine cable was put into service between Catalina Island and the mainland, near Los Angeles, superseding the radio installation. However, experiments have continued on trans-Atlantic radio telephony following the successful tests which were noted in the last report. The experimental broadcasting station in New York has been continued and broadcast important addresses of President Harding and President Coolidge.

During the year there have been installed a total of 2,160,000 telephone stations and 1,138,900 telephone stations have been discontinued. The net gain in telephones for the year was 891,342. This has meant net additions to plant of $230,000,000, a construction program much larger than any preceding year. A still larger program is planned for 1924 to provide for continued growth and insure greater promptness of installation.

A second transcontinental telephone line was placed in service during the year along the route through Pueblo, El Paso and Los Angeles. The New York and Chicago long-distance cable line was extended west to Cleveland and will be extended to Chicago within two years. Mention is made of the award of two gold Vali medals, seven silver medals and 105 bronze medals for especially meritorious acts of service which occurred in many places and in various activities connected with telephone service.

Nearly 100,000 employees of the Bell system are paying for approximately 400,000 shares of American Telephone stock at the rate of $2 per share per month. The price to employees is now $118 per share. Upwards of $60,000,000 is now invested in stock of the Bell System Companies by employees. The number of telephone employees December 31 was 271,937.

The statement of Bell System statistics shows one telephone station for each seven of the total population. The average daily telephone conversations during 1923 were 42,792,000.

The charges for current maintenance were 5.2 per cent and for depreciation 5.0 per cent of the average plant in service during the year. Taxes comprised a charge of $4.60 a station.

The financial statements of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company showed that the company in 1923, after meeting all operating charges and making adequate provision for depreciation and obsolescence, had available for interest and dividends $95,389,918.03. Interest charges were $13,697,736.66, a reduction of $1,809,275.22 from 1922. Dividends paid to stockholders at the rate of $9.00 per share per year,

CHIEF FIGURES IN THE NEWS OF THE DAY.

Colonel Charles E. Forbes, former head of the United States Veterans' Bureau, has been indicted in Chicago on the charge that he accepted a bribe of $5,000 from J. W. Thompson, wealthy contractor, to whom Forbes awarded hospital building contracts. Babe Ruth, world's champion slugger, has been stricken with his fourth attack of influenza at Hot Springs, where he was doing preliminary Spring training. Congressman Nicholas Longworth, of Ohio, is author of the income tax reduction bill as finally passed by the House. Governor Alex J. Groesbeck, of Michigan, was summoned to Washington for a conference with President Coolidge, the inference being that he was to be offered the post of Attorney General when Daugherty resigns. Senator William Marconi has announced that within a few weeks he will have perfected apparatus that will enable him to send messages along a narrow lane to which only the station at which they are aimed will be able to pick them up. Former Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, of North Carolina, is being boomed by his friends for the Democratic Presidential nomination.

amounted to $82,274,388.10, an increase of $10,304,134.17 over 1922. Of the resulting balance, there was appropriated for contingencies $3,000,000 and U. S. remainder, $16,417,793.27 was carried to surplus.

The number of stockholders of record on December 31st was 328,149, an increase of 32,224 during the year. The average number of shares held per stockholder in 1909 was 76, today it is 26, or an average holding of $2,600 at par.

In conclusion, Mr. Thayer states his belief that at no time during recent years has the spirit of cooperation throughout the Bell System been more satisfactory than now.

Doughnut Supper Tonight.

In the Polish parish school hall, on Delaware avenue, this evening, and on Tuesday evening, entertainments will be given by the young people of the parish. This evening from 7 to 12 o'clock a doughnut supper will be served and on Tuesday evening a play will be given by the young people. Members of the St. Aloysius Society, recently organized by the pastor, the Rev. Father Bialyga, will take an active part.

POUGHKEEPSIE CITY
HALL SWIFT BY FIRE
Damage estimated at $15,000—Important Records Safe.

Fire of undetermined origin swept through the Poughkeepsie city hall shortly before noon Sunday, razing walls and furniture to the extent of $15,000. Steps were taken that night by city officials to provide temporary quarters for offices damaged by the blaze. Planked on both sides by fire houses and housing the police headquarters and the center of the city's alarm system, in addition to the city offices, the structure long has been a landmark. It was used first as village hall, then as post office during the Civil War and subsequently as city hall.

Municipal documents of value were locked up in fireproof vaults, and, as far as has been ascertained, nothing of importance is missing. The fire was brought under control in about two hours. The common council held a special meeting Sunday night for the purpose of selecting a firm of adjusters from New York city.

Dempsey Better. By Telegram to The Freeman. New York, March 3.—Jack Dempsey, rapidly recovering from the effects of an operation at a local hospital, plans to leave his bed today for a short walk through the corridors of the institution.

Pirates in Far West. By Telegram to The Freeman. Paso Robles, Calif., March 3.—The Pirates will start this morning on the new program laid out by Manager McKechnie. There will be practice both in the morning and afternoon.

Boxing on Trial. By Telegram to The Freeman. New York, March 3.—Boxing elans of this city headed by State Senator Marly McCue, former boxer, plan to invade Albany tomorrow to present their side of the case before the senate ways and means committee, which is taking testimony, pro and con, on the boxing situation in this state. The committee has before it the Lord bill, aiming at the repeal of the Walker law.

It was reported that Tex Rickard planned to accompany the delegation for the purpose of answering Tom O'Rourke who has brought charges that Rickard indulged in ticket speculation on the Dempsey-Pirpo bout.

Young Missing. By Telegram to The Freeman. Sarasota, Fla., March 3.—John McGraw, taking his first look at conditions here, gave his approval today of Sarasota as a training site for his champion Giants, setting at rest various complaints lodged against the camp by early arrivals. At roll call this morning Ross Young was the only player of importance who was missing. Young is a definite holdout.

White Sox Have 36. By Telegram to The Freeman. Winter Haven, Fla., March 3.—Thirty-six White Sox started spring training today under Johnny Evers, undersliding Manager Frank Chance.

Cubs at Avalon. By Telegram to The Freeman. Avalon, Catalina Island, Calif., March 3.—Vic Keen's arm is improving and the Cub pitcher may escape a visit to Bone Setter Spencer. Late arrivals got their first batting practice today.

Dodgers Busy. By Telegram to The Freeman. Clearwater, Fla., March 3.—The Brooklyn Dodgers got down to stern business today when two drills were instituted at the local training camp. All of the twenty-four players in camp were on hand for the morning drill.

Athletics Get Busy. By Telegram to The Freeman. Montgomery, Ala., March 3.—The Philadelphia Athletics started spring training today. Connie Mack took occasion to deny that Paul Strand, the Salt Lake City star, is asking for a part of his purchase price.

Speaker Appraises Rookies. By Telegram to The Freeman. Hot Springs, Ark., March 3.—Manager Tris Speaker arrived from his Texas ranch today for his first appraisal of the ten or more rookie pitchers signed up by the Cleveland Indians.

Phillies Battery Men Work. By Telegram to The Freeman. Leesburg, Fla., March 3.—The Phillies' pitchers and catchers were hard at it today while awaiting the arrival of the staff of infielders and outfielders.

College Stars For Olympiad

Wealth of Material Shows for Places in Pole Vault and Broad Jump is Good as Won.

(By Davis J. Walsh.)

By Telegram to The Freeman. New York, March 3.—That college athletes will form the warp and woof, as always, of the American Olympic team—taking into account that some of them may object to being called a wolf—was determined with even greater emphasis over the week end just concluded. At the University of Illinois games, for example, De Hart Hubbard, of Michigan, cleared the astounding distance of 24 feet, 7 inches, indoors, and barring the unforeseen, will win the Olympic broad jump as sure as slow poison. Hubbard's performance was good for 25 feet in an outdoor pit.

Almost equally commendable was the pole vaulting of Brownell, of Illinois, in doing 12 feet, 10 1/2 inches. At that, Brownell will not lack for company. Three men—Libby of Dartmouth, Owens of Pennsylvania and Scholp, of Yale—tied at 12 feet, 6 inches at the indoor intercollegiate in New York and three others were better than "12-6."

None of them, perhaps, will take serious issue with Hoff, of Norway, who is credited with a world's record of 13 feet, 9 inches, but the writer would elevate no eyebrow if four American college men took the remaining places.

The column, of course, harbor most of the springing talent with Paddock, Murehison, McAllister and others lined up. Chester Bowman, of Syracuse, turned a very natty performance in sprinting 70 yards in 7 1/5 seconds at the indoor championships. Bowman runs without ostentation much after the manner of Howard Drew and is quite good under the lash, as he proved the night he stepped away from Murehison and McAllister. Bowman should place high in the Olympic.

So should Charley Moore, the Penn State hurdler. He won as he pleased at the 70 yard distance in 9 1/10, after an indifferent start. Moore is the present world's record holder at fifty yards and altogether quite a likely citizen.

Ralph Hillis's winning effort of 16 feet, 2 inches was an intercollegiate record, but, at that, not worthy of the Princetonian's best. He is the only American on view at the moment who has a chance to win the Olympic shot put.

Verne Booth, of John S. Hopkins, was the other record maker. Still a bit short of his best running, Booth ran two miles in 9:36 and supported the ever growing conviction that he is the only Yankee, now competing who has a chance to take issue with the foreigners over a distance of ground.

Boxing on Trial. By Telegram to The Freeman. All Cooks Look Alike to the hungry man, but what a sad disappointment when the "kitchen queen" quits suddenly and the table looks anything but satisfying to a zestful appetite. When in doubt as to what to do, use The Freeman's "Help Wanted" Cent-a-Word Department.

Three Good Reasons Why You Should Use Lyons Bumpers

1st. They are a protection.
2nd. They lessen your Collision Insurance 15 per cent.
3rd. They beautify.

Are not these three reasons enough for you?
